

COSMETOLOGY

The art of cosmetology and beauty culture dates back to the Ice age where haircutting and styling were practiced and implements were shaped from sharpened flints, oyster shells, or bone. It is also said that the early modern humans decorated themselves with natural pigments found in plants and fruits. Currently, cosmetology or the so-called beauty trends have taken over the minds of the people, thanks to social media.

Cosmetology is the study and application of beauty treatment. Beauty treatment can be applied to any part of the human body, whether it be their face or even the toenail. Thus, there are various branches in which a cosmetologist can specialize such as aromatherapy, nail art and tattoos, mehndi, hair styling, hair removal, skin care, cosmetics and even herbal beauty care.
