

Happening haircuts

1. Smoothed out pixie

Popularly referred to as a pixie cut, it refers to a style wherein your hair is cut shorter from the back and the sides with slightly long bangs in the front. You can sweep your uneven bangs to the side for a cool chick look.

Falling in the edgy category, this haircut for girls is particularly meant for those with a knack for experimentation. The broader category of pixie hairstyles usually comprises of a spiky short cut but the smoothed out pixie look is an alternative for those trying to achieve a cleaner look. You can straighten and smooth out the long locks and comb them at the side. It gives you a sorted sleek look that can go with casual as well as formal ensembles in equal measure.

Image Courtesy: Wise Hairstyles

2. Textured pixie

A textured pixie cut is when you chop down the long tresses of your actual pixie hair and give it a messy look. You can then dampen your hair with some styling lotion and crumple it to create a voguish dishevelled mess. It's one of those types of haircuts for girls that you just can't miss out on when experimenting is your key to styling.

Image Courtesy: Hair Stylery

3. Messy wob

You must have heard about the Bob hairstyle for women. Let's couple it with a wavy haircut and there comes the latest trend of "Wob". A wavy bob is one of the most popular hairstyles for women trending this year. It adds some well-deserved flair and drama to your hair giving you a "just rolled out of bed" look. However, based on your preference, you may choose to keep your bob straight as well. Although, it is imperative to highlight the bold statement made by a messy wob in comparison to the usual straight cut, along with doing wonders for your hair volume.

Image Courtesy: Short Bob Cuts

You also need to care for your coloured mane.

4. Long Bob with side bangs

This one is a classic cut for medium length hair and fortunately, is as easy as it looks - all you need to do is get a fringe with equal length hair for a simplistic look. If you wish to keep things minimalistic but refuse to compromise on the style quotient, then this new haircut for girls should definitely be on your priority list. It's one of those hairstyles for girls which complement almost every look. Be it a casual meeting with a friend or a board meeting with the managing directors, this hairstyle will make you look trendy and poised.

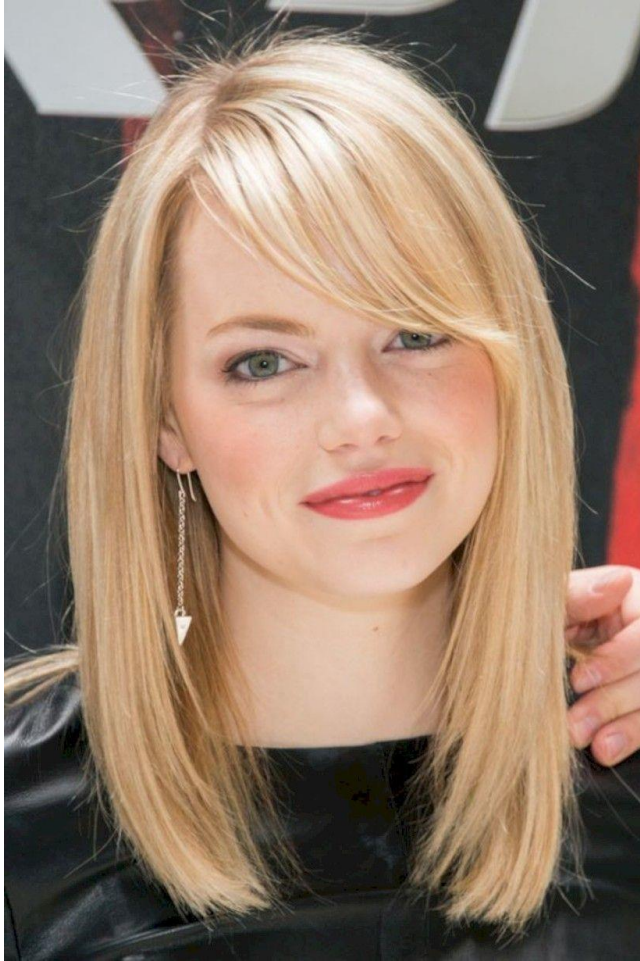

Image Courtesy: Super Hit Ideas

5. Multi-layers for long hair

When it comes to long hair haircuts, styling can get real tedious real quick. In addition, given the length and volume, options may also be considerably limited. Considering this predicament, the go-to option while contemplating hairstyles for women with long hair, would constitute multiple long layers. In addition to crowning you with trendy tresses, multiple long layers add substantial volume to your hair making it appear healthy, thick and stylish all at once. You must use a good shampoo since caring for your mane is highly recommendable.

6. Layers with a bang

Speaking of layers, how about taking it a notch higher and adding some bangs? This haircut for girls bestows you with the right amount of allure while maintaining a foundation of the cute girl next door. Popular amongst celebrities and fashion bloggers, this new haircut adds the element of quirk to your appearance while still remaining within the confines of comfortable norms.

7. Layered Bob

Like the wob, this is another technique to add some glamour to the straight-laced bob. Cut your hair short and in the same shape as you would if you were getting a bob, but ask your stylist to throw in some layers as well. Especially if you are looking for haircuts for round-faced girls, this trendy haircut can raise your style quotient exponentially. Accessorize this short hairstyle for women with cute clips and you are ready to turn multiple heads around you.

